WILL CAST OFF POOR OLD TAFT

When Time Comes To Take the Nomination.

Big Secretary Used To Cover Up Unfaithfulness.

Burton Breaks Out In Trade Against Roosevelt.

CALLS HIM BIG HYPOCRITE.

St. Louis, Mo., March 22.—[Special.]—Former Senator Joseph Ralph Burton, of Kansas, arrived in St. Louis to-day at noon, and left to-night for Abilene, Kan., to tell his constituents to-morrow night of what he calls the "most monumental hypocrite in history"—Theodore Roosevelt.

Burton was released from the Ironton jail this morning, after serving five of the six months imposed upon him by the United States District Court in St. Louis for improperly representing the Rialto Grain and Securities Company of St. Louis in Government matters.

"Of course Roosevelt is a candidate," said Burton. "I would say that he is always a candidate, and has been since he was old enough to vote."

Master Hypocrite.

"A master hypocrite, he can successfully mislead the public into the idea that he is for someone else for the nomination, but when the time comes he will be the candidate. He has already succeeded in making the party leaders declare that the Roosevelt policy must be pursued. The next thing we will hear is that if the Roosevelt policy is to continue, Roosevelt is the proper man for the nomination. That is precisely what Roosevelt is hoping to see happen, and from the outlook it does not appear that he will be disappointed."

"He killed off La Follette by being friendly to Spooner. Shaw was side-tracked when Roosevelt took up the cause of Cummings. Shaw saw the handwriting on the wall and left the Cabinet to accept a position in New York. Foraker has been attended to by the President's apparent friendliness to Taft, and who is left in the race? No one but Roosevelt."

Would Toss Taft Aside.

"He is using Taft like a flitting wife would impose on a foolish husband—to cover up his unfaithfulness. When the time comes he will cast poor old Taft aside and accept the nomination for a third term, which he hopes will be thrust upon him."

"Taft isn't big enough for the presidency. He is simply the tool of Roosevelt, who may throw Root into the race to make the waters muddy almost any time. Cortelyou may also be shifted into the race, but none of them can be taken seriously save Roosevelt, who, though not openly a candidate, is playing his cards to bring about his nomination for a third term, and he will get it."

Wants "Forced" Nomination.

"Roosevelt is too shrewd to declare himself a candidate. If he did he would be out of the race the moment he announced his candidacy. He wants the nomination to be 'forced' upon him, as it were, and he will accept it with open arms."

"We read in scripture about the Savior healing the leper, curing the sick, making the blind to see and the lame to walk, but nowhere in biblical history do we read of Christ either forgiving or curing the hypocrite. The disease is one which grows on a person as the years roll by and is incurable."

"There are two kinds of hypocrites. One is the smooth, oily, scheming, humble individual, of which Dickens character, Uriah Heep, is the immortal example. The other is the brusque, bulldozing, bold type, of which no better example can be found than Theodore Roosevelt."

To Fight Hypocrisy.

"I will devote my time to publishing my magazine and speaking, and will do what I can to blot out hypocrisy wherever it may exist."

"I will advocate the election of the Federal Judges. They should be brought closer to the people. The idea of placing so much power in a man for his national life is wrong."

"My body has been jailed at Ironton for the last five months, but my mind was as free as it ever was," said Burton.

"I will not discuss my trouble further now. I have been wronged, but I bear no resentment against anyone. I have learned to pity the hypocrites, but I do want to call their attention to one thing—I have only two cheeks."

Burton's Statement.

On leaving the jail Burton gave out the following signed statement: "This is the first signed statement I have made for publication since the day I was indicted. The impression has gone out that I propose to live for revenge."

This is a mistake. I have no such purpose. The wrongs done to me are the wrongs of others. Vengeance is thought to be noble only by the ignoble. Vengeance is mine, saith the Lord, is the philosophy to which I have always subscribed in the past, and to which I shall adhere in the future.

"I am a thousand times more solicitous that I shall not wrong another than I am concerned about the wrong others have done or may do to me. In saying this, however, I do not pretend to have more than two cheeks. I think it is wrong to rebuke hypocrites."

"I shall have charge of a newspaper, unless there is a fraud order issued against it before I can arrange for its publication. It will reflect my ideas. It is to be one for the agencies in the work I hope to do. I shall talk when I am not writing and shall write when I am not talking."

"The history of my case, already prepared, will appear in serial form, first in the paper. The story will be sensational; it will be truthful, interwoven with the history and a necessary part of it will be a discussion of certain conditions in our legislative, administrative and judicial government that I think have escaped the attention of the average citizen."

"I will not now go farther into my case nor my plans and purposes. The first thing I will make on Saturday evening to my home people; then there will be more to follow."

J. R. BURTON.

Accompanied by Mrs. Burton and his niece, Miss Dorothy Mitchell, Burton departed for St. Louis en route for Abilene, Kan.

TO PROSECUTE LADY HARD THING FOR JURY

REASON GIVEN FOR NOT INDICTING WOMAN.

WAS CHARGED WITH SENDING THREATENING LETTERS.

UNDER BOND TO KEEP PEACE.

Paris, Ky., March 22.—[Special.]—The jury in the case of Edward Woods' administratrix vs. Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company for $25,000 damages brought in a verdict for the company. Woods, while en route from Covington on an excursion train, was thrown or fell from the car, and his administratrix brought suit for damages.

The grand jury adjourned after returning several indictments. In their report they refused to indict Mrs. A. P. Shropshire, who made a sensation some time ago when she was arrested on peace warrants sworn out by two merchants of her neighborhood. The report says: "This grand jury investigated a charge of knowingly sending threatening letters to another, against Mrs. A. P. Shropshire. We have refrained from indicting this lady, as we are informed that she is now under bond to keep the peace toward all good citizens, and has not troubled anyone since the charge was made against her. To direct a prosecution against a lady is a hard thing to do, therefore we do not now indict, but ask that the charge against her be referred to the next grand jury, with the suggestion that she be not indicted so long as she lives at peace with her neighbors, and does not violate the terms of her bond to keep the peace."

Slayer At Bay.

By this time a score of policemen and Deputy Sheriffs, followed by hundreds of excited men and boys, were in pursuit of Thompson, who found temporary refuge in a lumber shed just across the street from the Touraine Hotel, the most fashionable hostelry in the city. Here he was located by Patrolmen Bell and Loyd. Thompson, by this time thoroughly desperate and with the cry of "lynch him," ringing in his ears, was ready for a fight to the death. While the crowd which had followed him were willing enough to cry "lynch him," and would have followed a leader, the whole thing happened so suddenly that the mob hesitated. But Policeman Dennis Loyd had seen the fugitive enter the covered lumber yard and followed him there. Finally Thompson was located behind a stack of lumber. He saw the officer about the same time the officer saw him and they fired at each other at close range almost simultaneously. What the effect of this exchange was is not known, but Policeman Bell coming to the aid of his brother officer at this time, was directed around the other side of the lumber pile with the idea of heading off escape, and while the crowd was cautiously feeling its way at the door of the lumber yard, Bell and Loyd opened on Thompson and the latter returned their fire.

Policemen Use Guns.

The officers wounded Thompson in three places, and he is probably fatally injured. As soon as Thompson had emptied his gun and received the wounds which may result in death, the officers, whose own pistols had been emptied, fell upon him with bare hands and bore him to the ground, taking the pistol away from him and making him a prisoner.

MAN JESTS DESPITE BULLET IN HIS BRAIN

LIVES FOR DAY AFTER RECEIVING INJURY AT HANDS OF JEALOUS RIVAL.

St. Paul, March 22.—A La Crosse, Wis., special says:

James Palmer Johnson, aged twenty-two, who laughed and joked for a day with a bullet in his brain, died at noon to-day at a hospital. An inquest to-morrow will determine upon what charge his alleged slayer, Albert Linhart, shall be prosecuted. Linhart died after the shooting.

Last Sunday Johnson attended a birthday party where Linhart was served freely. Witnesses claim Linhart, who was enamored of Miss Katherine Schuler, was not a guest, but lay outside in wait for Johnson. Wearing of his vigil, he entered the house, a guest displayed a pistol, and witnesses say Linhart snatched the weapon and pushing it almost into Johnson's face, fired twice.

DOG SAVES WOMAN FROM NEGRO BRUTE

ATTACKS HER ASSAILANT AND PUTS HIM TO FLIGHT—MOB AFTER FIEND.

Florence, Ala., March 22.—Mrs. Ben Rice, living on a farm near here, was to-day saved from a negro's clutches by her shepherd dog. The negro, a farm hand, named Cleveland Harding, finding Mrs. Rice alone, entered the house and attempted to assault her. The dog answered her screams and at once attacked the negro, giving the woman a chance to extricate herself. Harding, getting away from the dog fired and a pistol with bloodhounds in pursuit. Threats of lynching have been made.

Funeral of George Schneider.

The funeral services of George Schneider, the cigar maker, who took carbolic acid by mistake for catnip oil, last Wednesday night, will be held at the residence 124 Preston street, to-day at 2 o'clock. The interment will be in Eastern cemetery.

KILLED WHILE LEADING RAID

County Attorney Shot By Desperate Gambler

After House Is Stripped Of Its Paraphernalia.

Slayer Fatally Wounded In Fight With Police.

MOB TRIES TO LYNCH HIM.

Fort Worth, Tex., March 22.—Following a raid on an alleged gambling house late to-day, County Attorney Jeff D. McLean was shot and killed and Hamill P. Scott, a member of the raiding party, fatally wounded by William Thompson, proprietor of the resort raided. Half an hour later Thompson was surrounded in a lumber yard within a hundred yards of where Scott was shot down, and captured after a desperate fight, in which Thompson received bullet wounds that will probably cause his death within a few hours.

The several tragedies were of the most sensational and spectacular character and were witnessed by hundreds of men and women, including many members of the State Legislature here in attendance on a fat stock show. The house raided is located on Main street, near the corner of Sixth, right in the heart of the retail district.

Attorney Leads Raid.

Shortly before 5 o'clock County Attorney McLean, heading a party of deputies, forced an entrance into the place, placed a number of men under arrest and loaded a furniture van with tables and other paraphernalia. The wagon, with the confiscated furniture, had just moved off, when Thompson approached McLean, who was standing on the sidewalk and when within a few feet of the official, fired one shot, the bullet striking McLean in the throat, breaking his neck and causing almost instant death. As McLean fell, Thompson turned and ran west on Sixth street with Scott in pursuit.

Dodging behind a bill board at the corner of Seventh and Throckmorton streets, Thompson ambushed Scott, shooting the deputy three times in the body. When Scott fell, Thompson stopped only long enough to discard his empty pistol for that carried by the dying deputy and then renewed his flight.

By this time a score of policemen and Deputy Sheriffs, followed by hundreds of excited men and boys, were in pursuit of Thompson, who found temporary refuge in a lumber shed just across the street from the Touraine Hotel, the most fashionable hostelry in the city. Here he was located by Patrolmen Bell and Loyd. Thompson, by this time thoroughly desperate and with the cry of "lynch him," ringing in his ears, was ready for a fight to the death. holding their empty revolvers in their hands.

Try To Lynch Gambler.

The mob then threw themselves upon the officers, and were only prevented from attacking Thompson by the declaration that the double murderer was dead. He was loaded into the wagon and, lying on its floor, dashed off down the street, two blocks, to the police station. With men hanging on the steps of the wagon and demanding the life of the wounded prisoner, the race was made to the station and the prisoner was carried bodily into the police hospital. The story was so spread that he was dead and the mob quieted. To-night Thompson is believed to be dying.

County Attorney McLean had been an implacable foe to gambling. He has led a hundred raids since he has been in office, and last fall the gamblers opposed him at the polls, but he was re-elected. He was a son of the first railroad commissioner of Texas and former member of Congress. There is talk here to-night of ordering every gambler out of the city at once, and more severe measures are advocated in some cases.

LAI TO REST NEAR OTHER FAMOUS DEAD

IMPRESSIVE RITES FOR LATE THOMAS BAILEY ALDRICH.

POEM HE WROTE FOR LONGFELLOW CENTENARY READ.

ONE PASSAGE TALKS OF DEATH

Boston, March 22.—Funeral services of the late Thomas Bailey Aldrich were held in the Arlington-street Unitarian church this afternoon. In the chancel of the church were many floral pieces. In the center was a large wreath of laurel with red roses, tied with white and blue ribbon, the gift of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

The honorary pallbearers were Prof. Charles Eliot Norton, Col. Thomas Wentworth Higginson, Edmund Clarence Steadman, Henry M. Alden, Richard Watson Gilder, Hamilton W. Mabie, Gov. Guild, United States Senator Lodge, Bliss Perry, Edward L. Burlingame, George E. Woodberry, Moorfield Storey, David P. Kimball, George H. Mifflin, Judge Robert Grant and T. Russell Sullivan.

The service was concluded with the reading of the poem which Mr. Aldrich wrote for the 160th anniversary of the birth of the poet Longfellow, and which was the last work of Mr. Aldrich. In it he spoke of death as follows:

"They do not die who leave their thought Imprinted on some deathless page. Themselves may pass; the spell they wrought Endures on earth from age to age."

The body of the poet was conveyed to Mount Auburn cemetery, in Cambridge, where it was interred not far from the resting places of Holmes, Lowell, Longfellow and others who have won fame in literature.

CREW INSPECTION LAW ADVOCATED

COMMERCIAL BODIES ASKED TO PETITION CONGRESS FOR ENACTMENT OF ONE.

Washington, March 22.—Lincoln C. Cummings, of Boston, who has been prominently identified with the movement for Government inspection of crews of licensed steamers in order to better safeguard the lives of passengers, had a conference to-day with Secretary Strauss, of the Department of Commerce and Labor. Cummings later gave out a formal address to boards of trade and the public generally in which he said:

"Secretary Strauss advises me that everything is being done in his power under the law to insure the safety of passengers and that he can only go as far as the law permits. A law should be enacted making trained crews for passenger steamers compulsory before they are eligible for license and thus strengthen the hand of authority for all future time."

Boards of trade are urged to take action in the matter and send notices of such action to the headquarters of the movement in the Tremont building, Boston.

There is a strong impression here that the Department of Justice will be asked to consider the testimony with a view to instituting proceedings similar in intent to those which former Attorney General Knox inaugurated in the Northern Securities case. This has not been formally determined yet by the commission, and it would be entirely indiscreet for the commission to announce its intentions in the matter in advance of the completion of the investigation and the hearing of argument for and against the Harriman interests.

Roads Involved.

The roads of the Harriman system involved in the investigation are the Union Pacific, the Southern Pacific, the Oregon Short Line, the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company and the Chicago and Alton railroad. This comprises the system controlled by the Harriman crowd.

The commission is also paying close attention to the interests of the Harriman system in the Illinois Central and the Rock Island roads. The Harriman

HARRIMAN IS FACING CRISIS

Interstate Commerce Commission Will Soon Begin

To Probe Again Into Affairs of His Railroads.

Question Is Whether Disclosures Warrant Prosecution.

TO SIT AT WASHINGTON.

Washington, March 22.—[Special.]—Edward H. Harriman is confronted with the crisis of his career as a railway factor. The crucial question is now whether the disclosures before the Interstate Commerce Commission in the investigation of the Harriman system are sufficient to warrant legal proceedings under the Interstate Commerce laws, the Sherman Anti-Trust Act or the laws and Constitution of Illinois.

In two weeks the investigation will be resumed in Washington at the point where it ceased the last of February, after Mr. Harriman gave his testimony in New York. The date set for the resumption of the investigation is Thursday, April 4, and it is thought that Mr. Harriman will then come to Washington.

The commission, before the conclusion of its New York sessions, called for a number of important statements to be furnished. Frank B. Kellogg and Charles A. Severance, the commission's investigators, who have been in charge of the Government's proving, are now in consultation in St. Paul, and when the hearing is again taken up they will announce to the commission whether they desire to have any further evidence taken for the Government.

Not Yet Decided.

Meanwhile the railroad attorneys representing the Harriman interests have not yet decided whether they will want to offer any testimony in rebuttal. As the case stood when the New York sessions were over, the Harriman lawyers were not desirous of submitting any testimony. They will make up their minds finally as to the advisability of offering testimony in rebuttal when they learn what the Government intends to do in the matter.

Judge Lovett, of the Harriman lawyers, has asked to be heard in argument before the Commerce Commission, and that will be one of the principal things taken up after the testimony is in the hands of the commission. Judge Lovett will argue that the facts thus far obtained have shown no violation of any laws.

There are a number of phases of the investigation, but during the past few weeks the Alton deal has been given the most prominence in the public mind. This has been due to the fact that the Alton deal involves the question of inflation and overcapitalization and has been given emphasis on account of the recent flurry in Wall street, the visit of Gov. Deane to Washington, the fact that President Roosevelt has pretty thoroughly made up his mind in favor of legislation to prevent overcapitalization, and the discussion of stock watering by Hoke Smith, of Georgia, and others in public addresses.

The Alton deal is, however, only a branch of the whole investigation. There are several other features of the system equally as important as the Alton deal, even if they have been overshadowed by the discussion of the latter.

Primary Question.

The primary question involved is whether the consolidations and combinations of carriers into the Harriman system, the relations between these carriers and their community of interests, of their rates, their facilities, their practices, constitute a monopoly in restraint of trade in violation of the Sherman Law, or whether they involve violations of the Interstate Commerce laws.

There is a strong impression here that the Department of Justice will be asked to consider the testimony with a view to instituting proceedings similar in intent to those which former Attorney General Knox inaugurated in the Northern Securities case. This has not been formally determined yet by the commission, and it would be entirely indiscreet for the commission to announce its intentions in the matter in advance of the completion of the investigation and the hearing of argument for and against the Harriman interests.

The roads of the Harriman system involved in the investigation are the Union Pacific, the Southern Pacific, the Oregon Short Line, the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company and the Chicago and Alton railroad. This comprises the system controlled by the Harriman crowd.

The commission is also paying close attention to the interests of the Harriman system in the Illinois Central and the Rock Island roads. The Harriman system has a joint ownership in the Rock Island and stock in the Illinois Central.

Former Senator's Milkman In Washington Starts Boom.

Washington, March 22.—[Special.]—Senator John C. Spooner has some friends in Washington, who, despite the recent Taft boom, and the more mature Fairbanks boom, believe that the little giant from Wisconsin is the man who should be Theodore Roosevelt's successor in the White House. One of these is ex-Senator Spooner's milkman. Just before leaving Washington after the adjournment of Congress Senator Spooner sent out checks to pay all of the little bills and obligations which he had outstanding. One of these was sent to a dairyman who had furnished the lactical food for the Spooner household. Yesterday the milkman's receipted bill was returned to Senator Spooner's office in the Capitol with this endorsement: "I thank you for the check. Sorry to lose you as a customer, but hope soon to be serving you in the White House."

"LITTLE GERMAN BAND" MASTER HELD AND ROBBED.

Negro Woman Throws Arms About Him and Steals $400—Part Later Recovered.

John Schneider, the leader of the "Little German Band," that plays about the streets of Louisville, was robbed of $400 by a negro woman at Floyd and Green streets, about 10 o'clock Thursday evening. Schneider said that he was walking east on Green street and was almost at Floyd street, when the woman who was hidden in a shadow, suddenly jumped out, and before he was aware of her presence, she had thrown her arms around his neck and forcibly taken the money from his pocket, which was in gold and currency.

After robbing him, the musician said that the woman fled, but his way was blocked by two big, burly negroes, whom the woman told that Schneider was trying to beat. Upon hearing this the two men started after the musician and beat him to the ground. Upon regaining his feet, Schneider, from the neighborhood and notified Patrolmen Hepp and Dalton of the assault and robbery, and the patrolmen, upon going back to the scene of the robbery, found $361 hidden in an outshouse in the yard.

The accounts of the house denied all knowledge of the assault or robbery, and as Schneider was unable to identify any of the inmates, no arrests were made. Schneider said that the money belonged to the band, and that he had made arrangements to leave the city shortly for Cincinnati, the loss of money may postpone the trip.

EDWARD NORMAN, SET UPON BY THUGS, IN HOSPITAL.

Edward Norman is at the City Hospital suffering from injuries received in an encounter with two men at Eleventh and Congress streets shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday. Norman, a white man, left thigh is fractured and when taken to the hospital he was bleeding from the face and mouth. Patrolmen Finnegan and McGuire arrested T. G. Mayes and John Gannon in connection with the case, and they are in the Jefferson county jail charged with malicious assault. Last night they would neither affirm nor deny the charge against them. Norman lives at 313 Chapel street.

ENGLISH AUTHORITIES MAY HAVE KIDNAPED BOY.

Washington, March 22.—Third Assistant Secretary of State Wilson tonight received a cablegram from the American Consul at Portsmouth, Eng., saying that the authorities there have a boy who answers the description of the Marvin boy kidnaped from Dover, Delaware, whom search is being made in this country. Mr. Wilson, acting on President Roosevelt's instructions, forwarded the message to Gov. Lea of Delaware.

SWETTENHAM RETURNS SPEAKER CANNON'S CALL.

Kingston, Jamaica, March 22.—Secretary Metcalf, accompanied by Speaker Cannon, who arrived here yesterday with his party on the steamer Bluecher, left for the United States House at noon. Subsequently Gov. Swettenham returned the visit.

Early in the day Speaker Cannon, accompanied by William H. Orret, the American Vice Consul, drove through the burnt area. The Bluecher sailed this afternoon for Colon.

SHORTAGE OF CARS MAY CLOSE PLANT.

Evansville, Ind., March 22.—(Special.)—Secretary Hill, of the Hercules Powder Works, said to-night that unless he can get more freight cars within a few days he fears the plant will have to close and this would throw 300 men out of employment. The company uses fifteen cars a day and is able to get but three or four a day.

LAWRENCEBURG'S MAYOR IS SUES PROCLAMATION.

LOCAL OPTION ELECTION DRAWS TO A CLOSE.

BOTH SIDES EXPECT TO WIN.

Lawrenceburg, Ky., March 22.—(Special.)—The local option election in this city in drawing to a close and both sides are making a hard fight. Vice President Allen, of the Anti-saloon League of Kentucky, spoke here last night to a crowded house; Judge B. F. Hill, of New Castle, will speak here to-night; Dr. H. K. Taylor, of Winchester, will make an address Saturday night and union services will be held Sunday morning and afternoon.

Mayor McWilliams came out in the following card to-day:

"To the Citizens of Lawrenceburg:—Information has come to me that there will be a fair deal in this election and I am glad to hear it. It is my purpose as Mayor of this city to see that both the 'wets' and the 'drys' get a fair, straight deal in this election and the police force has been instructed to rigidly enforce the election laws, and anyone violating said laws will be forthwith arrested and prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

"If local option wins out, I will see that no 'blind tigers' are operated in this city as long as I am Mayor.

"JOHN P. McWILLIAMS."

Both sides express themselves as confident of winning, but it is the consensus of opinion that the vote will be very close.

MANY DAMAGE SUITS

Filed in Franklin Circuit Court—Ask For Thousands.

Frankfort, Ky., March 22.—(Special.)—Suits were filed in the Franklin Circuit Court to-day as follows: Joanna Downey against the city of Frankfort, for $5,000 for personal injuries; Irving Purdy against the Fort-Johnson Company for $2,000 for personal injuries while employed in defendant's chair factory; Jesse Roberts against the General Supply and Construction Company and Jos. McWilliams & Co., of Louisville, for $5,000 for personal injuries while employed at new Capitol site; Robert Smith against General Supply and Construction Company for $2,000 for personal injuries; Dora L. Martin against James Darnell for $1,000, alleged to be due for money loaned.

The trial of Jake Dossbach, of Louisville, for the alleged murder of George Miller in this city a year or more since, is docketed for the first case to be tried on the second day of the approaching term of the Circuit Court.

THOUSANDS OF LOGS LOST.

Lumber Company Sues Railroad For Causing Jam.

Winchester, Ky., March 22.—(Special.)—The Ford Lumber and Manufacturing Company, of Ford, this county, filed suit this afternoon against the L. and N. railroad for nearly $12,000 as damages. When the first tide in the Kentucky river came last fall the logs were one of the largest in the history of the river. At that time the railroad company was building a new bridge across the river at Ford. The false work supporting the bridge caught the floating logs and caused an immense jam of nearly 100,000 logs. The lumber company alleges that its boys were crowded out of the river by this jam, and that it lost thousands of logs in consequence.

TOBACCO WAREHOUSE BURNS.

Sixty Thousand Pounds of Weed Also Destroyed.

Harrodsburg, Ky., March 22.—The large tobacco warehouse of Hawkins & Co., at Bondville, in this county, was destroyed by fire, together with 60,000 pounds of tobacco. The firm had bought about 300,000 pounds of tobacco this season, but had shipped to Louisville recently all but that which was burned. There was $4,000 insurance on the tobacco and $400 on the warehouse. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

Summer Shade Bank.

Several of the influential citizens of Summer Shade, Meigs county, have organized a bank at that place. They will begin the erection of a new building in the village, and the new institution will not open for business until the new building is completed. The members of the following officers and directors have been elected: E. B. Pace, president; W. W. Wade, vice president; W. Winters, cashier; E. Quitty, Dr. P. W. Bushong, Dr. G. W. Dewey, Dr. G. M. Depp, J. S. Word and J. T. Harbison, were elected directors. The new concern will be styled the Bank of Summer Shade.

Dying In Hendersonville.

Lancaster, Ky., March 22.—(Special.)—H. M. Ballou, of this place, was summoned to Hendersonville, N. C., to the bedside of his wife, who is extremely ill. Mr. Ballou's family went on a recuperative trip south about the first of January, and until the telegram was received her friends regarded the stricken woman as improving from a recent rather reduced physical condition. She is a constant attendant upon a four-year-old invalid daughter, who died a few months ago of tuberculosis.

Negro Breaks Jail.

Campbellsville, Ky., March 22.—Charles Burress, colored, charged with the murder of another negro named Hancock, escaped from jail here last night by making a hole in the wall over a window. Judge W. P. Blakey offers a reward of $50 for Burress' arrest. The fugitive is described as "ashy-black," five feet nine inches tall and weighing one hundred and thirty pounds. He walks with his toes turned out at a wide angle. The implements used by Burress were a pointed wedge and a file, furnished him from the outside.

Two Go To Penitentiary.

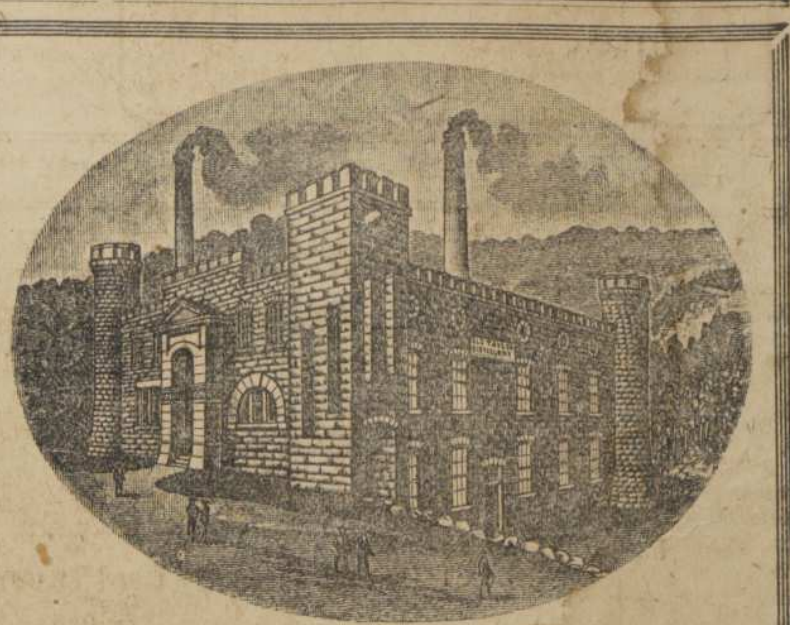

Williamsburg, Ky., March 22.—(Special.)—Herbert and Rolla White were fined $500 each for assault with intent to kill on a man named Henry of Harlan county, at White's restaurant in Corbin last fall.

Morris Jones was given two years in the penitentiary for robbery. George Ramsaur was given ten years for carnally knowing a female under sixteen years of age. The first case tried here since the Legislature raised the age of consent.

QUICK DECISION

Indicated For the Louisville Election Cases.

PROVISION MADE FOR HEARING EXPECTED APPEAL.

NO DECISION IN LOWER COURT.

Louisville Cases Decided.

Several cases here on appeal from the Jefferson Circuit Court branches were passed upon to-day before adjournment. Chief Justice O'Rear directed the Clerk to rearrange the argument docket of this court for the April term, which has already gone to the printer, so that the time for the second week of the term will be left without any cases assigned. He explained that the week was to be reserved for hearing of the Louisville election cases.

The order of the Chief Justice is considered a most unusual one, as these cases have not yet been decided in the Jefferson Circuit Court, where they have been pending for some time, and have, in no form, come to the Court of Appeals. It is believed here, from the making of this order by the Chief Justice, that the court intends to dispose of the cases immediately upon their being appealed to it from the judgment to be entered below, so that the decision will be announced finally within the next sixty days, and should it be necessary to hold an election for any office in contest, that election can be held at the time of the regular election in November.

The order of the Chief Justice disarranges the hearing of cases at the beginning of the April term, which begins on April 8, next, as Clerk Chinn had already assigned cases here on appeal for that time. It is a rule of the court, however, to advance all election contest cases for immediate hearing. It is not customary, however, by order or direction to be given in such cases before they are appealed to the Court of Appeals.

During the January term, just ended, the Court of Appeals disposed of 384 appeals to it, as against 339 during the January term of last year, before the court was given relief by act of the General Assembly. Of the cases disposed of at this term, 239 were affirmances of lower court judgments, 125 were reversals, seventeen were dismissed appeals, and in three instances the law of cases was certified to a lower court.

Judge Lansing writing, the court affirmed judgment of the Larue Circuit Court in a case of H. P. McDermott against the Commonwealth. The appellant was convicted of violation of the local option law of Hodgenville, and she entered.

The court directed the dismissal of an appeal from the Davies' Circuit Court in a case of the Rural Telephone Company against the Kentucky and Indiana Telephone Company. The court below restrained the Rural Company from severing a physical connection which it has with the appellee company under contract. The court says, however, that the appellant company has the right to establish such connection with the Cumberland Telephone Company, which it sought to do.

Judge Barker delivered opinions in cases of Nelson county against the Bardotown and Bloomfield Turnpike Company, from Spencer county same against Bardotown and Louisville Turnpike Company, from Bullitt county same against Chapman and Bloomfield Turnpike Company. The cases were companion actions, and have been in the courts for several years. This was the third appeal to the higher court. The proceedings were instituted by the road companies to recover from the county the value of roads which had been turned over to the county under an agreement. In the Bullitt county case the court below gave judgment for $11,000, and in the Spencer county case for $12,500.

The second division of the Chancery branch was reversed in a case of W. H. Yager's administrator against the Bank of Kentucky. Judge Settle announced this decision, which remands the case for further proceedings. The suit grows out of the

LABOR HOLDS FORTH TO-NIGHT

The heart of President Roosevelt would have throbbed with delight and he would have been thoroughly convinced that race suicide is an unknown and an unthought-of in Louisville had he dropped in on the Greater Louisville Exposition yesterday afternoon and seen the thousands of children who were in attendance and whose every action indicated that they were "delighted." Children came singly, in pairs and in droves, some with chaperones and some without, but all with the one object in view, to see the Greater Louisville Exposition, and see it they did. With the matinee attendance of the children and the turnout of the Smiths and Browns and the Joneses and their friends last night, the crowd which passed through the doors between the hours of opening yesterday morning and the closing last night numbered 14,000 people, the record for the week.

All Smiths, Joneses and Browns Out.

Last night witnessed a big outpouring of people in honor of "Smith-Jones-Brown night," and it seemed that everyone in Louisville bearing any of those names, together with all their friends, were present to honor the occasion. And the Schmidts were there, also, to vie with their brothers and sisters of the same name in making the occasion a grand success and to help them out do the Jones and Brown families in point of attendance. J. Lithgow Smith, R. W. Brown and Lawrence Jones did the honors of the evening as chairman of arrangements, and every minute of their time was taken up until far into the night meeting those of the same name.

Frequently during the evening the question was asked of the chairmen and of the "Daniel Boone" guards which was the most important part of the exposition to visit, but to all of these the questioners received the same answers, that each and every feature of the big show was an important part and that none of it should be missed, as each exhibitor regarded his or her exhibit the best part of the exposition. And taking this as a cue, the visitors started forth to see the exposition in its entirety, to accomplish which every booth must be visited.

Long before the doors of the exposition opened yesterday morning a crowd of several hundred children was assembled in front of the building and as far as the eye could see on any street leading to the Armory were children and then more children, all with smiling faces and beating hearts, anxious to see that which they had heard their fathers and mothers talking about for so long, and which treat was about to be realized.

Children—More Children.

The school children of Louisville, and other children entirely too small to undertake educational work, were visitors at the Greater Louisville Exposition yesterday. They came with their mothers, with their school teachers, with their older sisters and brothers and with their nurses, and from 10 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock in the afternoon it was children, children, nothing but children, passing through the doors of the big Armory. If ever the patience of man and woman was taxed it certainly fell to the lot of those in charge of the various booths to have their thoroughly tried during the day, but not a thing occurred to mar the pleasure of the little ones and it was without doubt the happiest day ever spent by a majority of the children. The only thing lacking to have completed the happiness of the children was water, and had the management of the exposition had the foresight to have had several barrels of the cooling beverage placed in various sections of the auditorium to accommodate the little ones the day would have been far more enjoyable for them. All day long children hurried and scurried through the building looking for water to quench their thirst, but not a drop could they find.

The Louisville public schools gave a half holiday yesterday in honor of "Children's Day" at the exposition, and every principal and teacher was present at the Armory to lend their aid to the children and make them thoroughly enjoy the day and the manner in which they succeeded was plainly visible on the face of every child inside the big building.

Interest Never Flags.

All day long the little folk crowded in front of the various booths and exhibited as much interest in the displays as could possibly have been shown had they been grown up, and it must be said in compliment to those in charge of the exhibits that the children received the same consideration as the older people, and in some instances even more, as some of the exhibitors supplied the little ones with beautiful souvenirs and good things to eat.

Smith T. Bailey and George H. Wilson were the chairmen of arrangements for the day, and with the assistance given to them by the school principals and teachers every child was made to feel that he was a part of the exposition. Previous to the concert by Creator's band, the band from the Industrial School gave a concert in the front of the building, and among the most interesting spectacles were members of Creator's band, who paid high compliments to the playing ability of the youngsters.

That "Uncle Sam" will not want for men to fight his battles in the years to come was thoroughly demonstrated by the boys in attendance at the exposition yesterday. The interest displayed by the juveniles in the battlefields and the guns on exhibition was truly remarkable, and all day long those in charge of these exhibits were kept busy explaining the working details of the armored cruisers and loading and unloading the big guns for the education of the small boy.

Pickle Dispensers Busy.

One of the most popular booths at the exposition yesterday was the one where great pickles and sour pickles are dispensed with a free hand, and if any child visitor failed to get a handful it was his or her fault, as several barrels were emptied during the day by the two obliging clerks in charge of the booth.

Have you seen the little lady who performs on the typewriter near the entrance to the main exposition hall? She is Miss Veneda Weiss, of 1326 Grayson street, and edits the Exposition News, a one-sheet daily giving many interesting notes of the big show. Little Miss Weiss is sixteen years old, and although she has only used a typewriter five months she has attained a record of 120 words a minute, and her performance on the machine is truly remarkable. Miss Weiss fingers the keys of a typewriter with the same ease and grace a finished musician plays on a piano, and in the day long and far into the night people congregate near her and watch her at work.

Remarkable Half Tone.

The most remarkable half-tone engraving ever produced in this or any other country is on exhibit at the Tinsley-Mayer booth at the Exposition, and shows the wonderful work done by this well-known local firm of engravers. The half-tone was produced through a screen containing seven lines to the inch, the nearest approach to this being made by a London Engraver in 1906, through a screen with fourteen lines to the inch. The same photograph is also shown in the same exhibit made through the very finest screen of 200 lines to the inch, and the contrast is so remarkable that visitors to the Exposition are amazed at the class of work pronounced it the most wonderful to be seen.

It is the belief of E. B. Tinsley, senior member of the engraving firm, that in this latest half-tone production, which was accomplished only two weeks ago, March 15, the work was done in such a manner that a photograph of the engraving taken by a camera and enlarged would show a half-tone produced through a coarse screen. This latest engraving feat by the Tinsley-Mayer Company is one which this and their striving for years to accomplish, and it thoroughly demonstrates the wonderful resources of Greater Louisville.

Post-office Men's Day, Too.

Robert E. Woods, the postmaster, has accepted the invitation of the exposition management for the employees of the post-office to attend the exposition the afternoon and night of March 22, and to be present at the closing day of the exposition, has been designated "Everybody's Day," and that everyone in the city who has not seen the exposition up to that time can have an opportunity to attend. The men in charge of "Railroad Night," March 22, are bent on making that the banner night of the exposition, and yesterday the following proclamation was issued to the knights of the throttle, desk, punch, truck and oil men:

Hail! Ye Railroad Men, Hail!

To All Ye Railroad Men, the Greater

REST BOOTH OF COURIER-JOURNAL AND TIMES AT EXPOSITION

The booth of the Courier-Journal and Times at the Greater Louisville Exposition has been arranged with a view to furnishing a comfortable resting place for those who tire of walking about the big building viewing the exhibits. It has proved one of the most popular booths at the Exposition.

Louisville Exposition Company Sends Greetings.

For it is made known to you all by this proclamation that on Friday, March 22, the twenty-ninth, Railroad Night, will, with good fellowship and good cheer, be celebrated at the Exposition Building, once known as the Armory, but re-christened by us for your pleasure. Sirs, Therefore, ye are commanded to appear at the Exposition Building—be ye men of the thrifty or of the idle, be ye of the scoop or the truck—be ye men of the desk, punch or street—to the good end that all men who either run or read may learn the tale of the Greater Louisville.

Now, ye Railroad Men—farewell and Hail! until March twenty-ninth, which will be Railroad Night.

The Arctic exhibition brought from ice-bound Alaska by Capt. Lebel, and which has been displayed in the basement of the Armory during the first four days of the exposition, has been removed to the first floor, and can now be seen in the booth adjoining the information bureau in the thirteenth corner of Industrial Hall. Capt. Lebel has his assistant, a genuine Indian, who attracts fully as much attention as the petrified bodies on exhibition.

Summary of To-day's Events.

The official title of to-day is "Southern Indiana Day."

S. H. Lynd is chairman of arrangements for to-day's observances, which begin with the opening of the armory doors at 10 o'clock this morning. Delegations from all the cities of Southern Indiana, as well as the entire personnel of many commercial clubs and newspaper staffs along the Ohio will be present. The two principal cities, Jeffersonville and New Albany—the most important points in Southern Indiana—will send large chunks of their populace.

The official title of to-night is "Labor Night," with John Young, president of the Louisville Federation, as chairman of arrangements. Mr. Young has been laboring for weeks to make this the most important night of the exposition, and committees appointed in every union in the city, together with representatives of the Louisville Federation, and delegations from adjoining States and Indiana unions have promised an attendance of over 10,000 during the night. Creator's band prepared a characteristic program.

To-morrow—Sunday—the Exposition will close, and the entire personnel of the Louisville Federation, as chairman of arrangements, for special days and nights in the city, together with representatives of the Louisville Federation, and delegations from adjoining States and Indiana unions have promised an attendance of over 10,000 during the night. MORE CHANGES ON CANAL ZONE

This Time It's Shake-up In Local Government.

Secretary Taft To Pass On Important Matters.

Decision of Gatun Dam Question One of Them.

GOETHALS GOES IN APRIL 1.

Washington, March 22.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt has signed executive orders providing for wholesale changes in the local government of the canal zone, and Richard Reed Rogers, general counsel of the Isthmian Canal Commission, will go to the Isthmus with Secretary Taft to put them into effect. The five municipal governments which now exist in the canal zone will be replaced by four administrative districts under the direct control of the Canal Commissioner. The municipal governments were found to be wholly unsatisfactory.

The variety of subjects that Secretary Taft will have to handle during the five or six weeks he will be absent on his coming trip to Panama, Cuba and Porto Rico would be enough to frighten the average man. He will endeavor to be the impartial investigator, the pacificator, mediator, judge, counselor and friend to all. He will try to round off rough edges, to establish new friendships and place old ones on a firmer basis.

It is admitted that one of the main objects of his visit to Panama is to determine whether locks and dams can be built at Gatun. Eminent engineers differ. Upon the outcome depends the construction of the gigantic enterprise upon present plans. The Secretary has had test holes fifty feet drilled along the proposed works at frequent intervals. The borings will show whether a stone foundation can be reached.

Authorities To Advise.

Frederick P. Stearns, of Boston, authority on the construction of earth dams; Alfred Noble, in charge of the terminal works of the Pennsylvania railroad in New York City, and John Ripley Freeman, of Providence, R. I., an expert electrical and mechanical engineer, are being taken along to scrutinize the borings and advise the Secretary. Secretary Taft will also be accompanied by Senator Kittredge, who will be the new chairman of the Senate Inter-oceanic Canals Committee, and an ardent advocate of the sea level type of canal; Representative Burton, of Cleveland, chairman of the House Committee on Rivers and Harbors, and Representative De Armond, of Missouri.

Secretary Taft is confident that the result of their examination will confirm present conclusions. If the members of his party say that the canal project is all right the work will push.

Outside of this there are a number of questions that have caused friction between the officials of the canal zone and the Panamanians, originating largely through the difference in prices of food and luxuries because of tariff duties. It is charged that the Tivoli Hotel in the canal zone because of duty free goods has run about nine American hotels in Panama out of business. The question of tariff figures also in other differences.

Takes Charge April 1.

Secretary Taft announced to-day that Lieut. Col. Goethals will succeed Mr. Stevens as chairman of the Isthmian Canal Commission and engineer in charge of the canal work April 1. This is much sooner than Col. Goethals expected to assume charge, for he felt that it would take him perhaps two months to acquaint himself with all the details of the great work.

When he becomes chairman of the commission, by promotion from the grade of commissioner, which he now occupies, there will be a vacancy in the commission, which will be filled by the appointment of former Senator J. C. Blackburn, of Kentucky. Col. Goethals will receive a salary of $15,000; Major Gallard and Lieut. Col. Goethals will receive $14,000 each and Dr. Gorgas, Jackson Smith and Mr. Blackburn $10,000 each.

Alleged Too Zealous.

Through Commissioner Henry F. Green the Civil Service Commission is investigating charges that Collector Stuart, of Newport News, Va., son of the famous Confederate General, has shown too much partisan zeal as a recent convert to republicanism. The accusation is that Collector Stuart has discharged every Democratic employee of the office. Deputies and clerks of the customs offices throughout the country not long ago were included in the permanent civil service list, and when Collector Stuart took charge of the office at Newport News he found that nearly all of his subordinates were Democrats, thus depriving him of the services of the workmen wholly of patronage. If the alleged charges against him are proven it is believed his resignation will be asked.

First Meeting About May 1.

Representative Burton, of Ohio, chairman of the Inland Waterways Commission, recently appointed by the President, had a talk with Mr. Roosevelt to-day about the work of the body, the initial meeting of which will be held about May 1. Mr. Burton stated that while the matter thoroughly investigated. The negroes take their arrest very coolly and seemed not in the least concerned. They do not seem to realize the enormity of their crime, or else they are doing very good acting.

A special grand jury will be impaneled to-day and the matter thoroughly investigated. The negroes take their arrest very coolly and seemed not in the least concerned. They do not seem to realize the enormity of their crime, or else they are doing very good acting.

ATTEMPT TO WRECK TRAIN ON L. AND N.

Negroes Discovered In Act and Both Captured—Special Jury Investigating.

Glasgow, Ky., March 22.—[Special.]—The people of Glasgow Junction were excited yesterday afternoon when it became known that two negroes had attempted to wreck an L. and N. train by placing an obstruction on the track, and had also tried to wreck a train on the branch road in a similar manner. When the effort was discovered the negroes fled, but before they had gotten far one of them was arrested. The other came on here and was arrested on a description furnished over the telephone. They gave their names as John Henry Stone and Henry Davidson, both under twenty years of age.

A special grand jury will be impaneled to-day and the matter thoroughly investigated. The negroes take their arrest very coolly and seemed not in the least concerned. They do not seem to realize the enormity of their crime, or else they are doing very good acting.

PRODUCE AND FRUITS.

LEAF TOBACCO.

Friday Evening, March 22.—The market for leaf tobacco on the local market today showed no material change from yesterday. The sales of new Burley were of fair volume and the quality was about even up to the average. The market continued active with all colors of tobacco and bright grades and firm and unchanged for common and medium grades. The types met with fair competition.

Sales of leaf tobacco in the local market last week, according to the Louisville Leaf, were:

We would only buy cotton on good declines for any amount. (Hubbard Bros. & Co. to W. Watson Fleming & Co.)
We shall continue to regard the statistical situation as very unfavorable.
We would not be surprised to see the bull interests work up prices still further than the present level.

result of these reports the market was extremely nervous all day. Immediately following the release of the report, the market was selling by shorts and commission houses. Later this firmness disappeared because of the weak reaction of the market. Sellers were discouraged by denials of the "green bug" damage to the corn crop and the weather. In the day, however, fresh orders were received reaffirming the reports of damage. This started lively trading in shorts and some advance. The close was firm. May weather will seriously test the condition of the grain. The market was weak. May's corn opened at 46 1/2¢ and declined to 46 1/4¢. May's wheat opened at 69 1/2¢ and then declined to 65 1/4¢. First-grade soybeans opened at 47 1/4¢ and then declined to 47 1/8¢.

Trading in oats was small and the market was weak. The first of the crop of 1941 was sold. Loans were the principal sellers and cash buyers were the best buyers. May's oats opened at 41 1/2¢ and then declined to 41 1/4¢. May's soybeans opened at 41 1/2¢ and then declined to 41 1/4¢. The close was at 41 1/4¢.

SATURDAY MARCH 23, 1907

ANOTHER VAUDEVILLE HOUSE IN LOUISVILLE

KLAW & ERLANGER SAID TO WANT ONE HERE.

NEW YORK SYNDICATE TRYING TO BUY PROPERTY IN CITY.

MANY SITES SOUGHT AFTER.

That Louisville is to have another vaudeville theater, provided a suitable site can be obtained by the projectors seems assured. At least three well-known real estate firms are canvassing all of the available locations, and for the past two weeks they have made various offers to owners, asking for a firm of New York theatrical managers. Property on Jefferson, Walnut and Second streets is among the locations that are being considered for the proposed playhouse.

One of the real estate dealers said yesterday that he had been authorized by a New York vaudeville firm to procure a building site for a theater and had been instructed as to the maximum figure that the firm was willing to spend for the property. While he would not divulge the name of the vaudeville firm that seeks to have a Louisville playhouse, it is none other than Klaw & Erlanger, who recently entered the vaudeville field, and is preparing to establish a circuit of theaters in opposition to the Keith and Orpheum circuits.

Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger and their affiliates for years have been known as the theatrical syndicate or trust, practically controlling the higher class of theaters in nearly all of the large cities until recently. The Shuberts, the Greys, the Fisks and others opened independent or Shubert-owned theaters in Louisville. Macaulay's Theater is known as a Klaw & Erlanger house, while the new Mary Anderson Theater will be managed by the Shuberts, or the independent managers.

It was but a month ago that Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger decided to enter the Louisville field. They immediately obtained the leases of theaters in Pittsburgh, Rochester, Buffalo, Toronto, Detroit, Columbus and St. Louis and are negotiating for a Cincinnati playhouse. The new American Theater, in St. Louis, now being erected for the Morris, the New York vaudeville booking agent, will be used for the "K. & E." vaudeville attraction.

By next fall it is expected that the firm will have at least fifty vaudeville theaters in operation in the United States and Canada. Plans for all these theaters, it is said, contemplate their construction along the general lines, but on a much smaller scale, of the New York Hippodrome. When opened the new "K. & E." theaters are to be conducted by managers who are experienced not only in vaudeville, but in other forms of high-class theatrical entertainment as well.

NITRO-GLYCERIN CARTRIDGE NEARLY KILLS YOUNG BOY.

Clyde Shrader Was Trimming It With Hatchet When It Exploded With Great Force.

In the presence of his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Shrader, of 1425 Fulton street, Clyde Shrader, aged eleven years, was seriously injured by the explosion of a nitro-glycerin cartridge in the back yard of his home yesterday morning. Young Shrader was in the front yard of his home when he found the cartridge, and taking it to the back yard, got a hatchet and tried to trim the copper down so that he could use it as an anchor for a little boat. He was in the act of doing this when the explosion followed. The hatchet was thrown twenty feet away and the boy was struck on the head from behind and completely covered with blood. The little fellow's clothing was blown to shreds and what was left was ignited, and but for the near presence of his father the boy would have been killed by the fire.

Both of his arms are in a serious condition, and at first it was thought that he would lose them both. Dr. W. W. Smith, who attended to the boy's injuries, said that the last report is to the effect that the boy is resting easily and will recover.

MR. LONG GLAD MR. GRAINGER IS NAMED.

Until Charles F. Grainger, the newly named member of the Board of Water Works, qualifies, Charles R. Long will continue to serve as president of the board. Mr. Grainger cannot qualify until his nomination is confirmed by the Board of Aldermen April 2, and even then it is not incumbent upon him to qualify at once. Mr. Grainger and Mr. Long have been life-long friends, and the latter is glad that Mr. Grainger got the appointment.

The fact that Grainger & Co. secured some contracts from the Water Company six years ago, while Mr. Grainger was a member of the Board of Public Works, does not signify that Mr. Grainger is ineligible as a candidate for president of the Board of Water Works. It is said that Mr. Grainger's firm did not do any work for the city.

Lighting Company Incorporated. The George G. Fetter Lighting and Heating Company incorporated yesterday with a capital of $100,000, divided into shares of $100. The incorporators, each of whom have three shares, are George G. Fetter, Howard Wedekemper, C. H. Shield and W. H. Netherland. The maximum debt is $100,000.

Contract For Annex Approved.

Mayor Paul C. Barth yesterday approved the contract made by the Board of Public Works with J. W. Connor for the erection of the City Hall annex. Mr. Connor's bid was the lowest of six bids received by the board. The work likely will be completed within seven months.

Negro Woman Charged With Pouring Poor Whisky.

NOT UP TO STANDARD INDICATED BY GOVERNMENT STAMP.

REVENUE OFFICIALS NOW PROSECUTING SPECIAL CRUSADE.

PRACTICE BECOMES COMMON.

Elizabeth Warden, colored, proprietor of a saloon at 437 West Green street, was arrested yesterday by William Blades, Deputy United States Marshal, on the charge of putting whisky that was bottled in bond. The Warden woman gave bond in the sum of $500 for her appearance on April 4 before Henry Cassin, United States Commissioner. The warrant of arrest was served on the Warden woman by the Deputy Marshal at her place of business. She afterward called in person at the United States Marshal's office and the bond was given. The affidavit on which the warrant of arrest was issued was sworn out by J. W. Barlow, special deputy collector.

The revenue officials are very strict indeed in the matter of going after saloonkeepers who continue to violate the law in the matter of refilling bottles which contained whisky bottled in bond. As a usual thing the whisky is easily detected, as it is far below 100 proof. Only a week or two ago a saloonkeeper was fined $100 for violating this section of the law. The most of the persons caught in the violation of the law against refilling or using bottles which contained whisky bottled in bond compromise with the Government by paying the lowest fine, which is $100, and the cases are never given out.

Special Crusade Begun.

Since the enactment of the pure food law a special crusade has been commenced by the Government against the violators of this section of the law. It is said that the practice among a certain class of saloonkeepers in refilling bottles bearing the Government stamp has become common.

A Government official easily detects a bottle which contains such whisky. The bottle becomes dirty by use and naturally attracts suspicion. Again, a judge of good whisky can tell usually by the appearance. When he tastes the liquor it is all off. When an official discovers a place to usually call for a drink and asks the proprietor to give him some whisky out of certain bottle which he sees displayed on the shelf. Unless the saloonkeeper is quite wary he is soon picked up.

Not long ago an official under Colonel Craft stopped in at a corner grocery and saloon and asked for a drink. The saloonkeeper asked what whisky he wanted. He said that he believed he would take a little out of a certain bottle bearing the Government stamp, which appeared to be a real full bottle of whisky. He said that he believed he would take a little out of a certain bottle bearing the Government stamp, which appeared to be a real full bottle of whisky. He said that he believed he would take a little out of a certain bottle bearing the Government stamp, which appeared to be a real full bottle of whisky.

"John, this whisky does not seem to come up to the standard as to proof. What's the matter with it?" John, not being well acquainted with the official, but knowing that he had seen him at the Customhouse, suddenly became suspicious, and, turning the bottle up and emptying all of its contents into the water trough, he remarked: "Well, if it is not up to the standard I don't want to sell it."

It was all off with the Government official; there was no case for him, for there was no whisky in the bottle bearing the Government stamp.

REMONSTRANCE HEARD BY LICENSE BOARD YESTERDAY.

For two hours yesterday afternoon the License Board heard remonstrances against granting to William J. Sandman a license to conduct a saloon at 301 West Chestnut street. He was represented by the law firm of Edwards & Ogden, and the remonstrators were represented by William T. Hale, attorney. The board took the evidence under submission, and will give a decision later.

The remonstrance against granting to Charles J. Smith a license to operate a saloon at 315 P street, and also the case

STRICT ENFORCEMENT OF ANTI-SPIT LAW ORDERED.

In the Police Bulletin of yesterday the recent ordinance making it a crime to spit on the sidewalks or in public places was printed, and strict orders were given the patrolmen to enforce the law. The ordinance was passed by the Council several weeks ago, but so far only one arrest for spitting on the sidewalk has been made. In that case the defendant was fined $10. According to orders given yesterday, the patrolmen are to arrest all persons who are seen spitting in public places and to look out for offenders.

RELATIONSHIP, IF PROVED, WOULD GIVE HER LEGACY.

Miss Josephine Finn, of 123 West Market street, is interested in establishing a relationship to the late Timothy Finn, a contractor, of Washington, D. C., who died a few years ago leaving personal estate which is thought to be worth having. So far, however, no positive relationship has been established, and Miss Finn is still in doubt as to whether or not she is entitled to the estate.

OPEN WEATHER HELPFUL TO REAL ESTATE MARKET.

The delightful spring weather of the past few days has given an impetus to the Louisville real estate market, and a number of sales of real estate property were recorded yesterday. The real estate firm of Gardner & Co. reports the following sales: House on Independence avenue to A. C. Kelly for $2,400; to Marc Keen for $3,600; to A. S. Talfer for $2,500; seven-room, 28, Edgewood avenue to C. R. Shuler for $1,750; a cottage on Prospect avenue to Mrs. Sophie Todd for $1,300; a house on Bayview avenue to W. A. Hunter for $3,400 and the residence at 2121 Ford street for A. T. Drysdale for $1,750.

SOAPSUDS OR NO SOAPSUDS QUESTION RAISED IN COURT.

Soapsuds or no soapsuds was the perplexing question which confronted Acting Judge James P. Edwards yesterday morning in Police Court, when Sess Semar was presented on a charge of disorderly conduct, the specific charge against her being that she was a neighbor of 2411 High avenue, being that she threw soapsuds on the front lawn of her neighbor with the avowed purpose of killing the bluegrass. The evidence in the case promised to be of a complicated nature and that account the trial of the case was continued.

"RABBIT" BURKE AND PAL DISMISSED FROM COURT.

In Police Court yesterday morning Mrs. Leo Raverty, of 123 West Market street, was unable to identify "Rabbit" Burke and Jeff Williams as the two men who assaulted her on Monday with intent to rob and the two men were dismissed. The two men were arrested Tuesday night by Patrolmen Riley and Mulvaney and answered the charges in Police Court. The description furnished them by Mrs. Raverty of the two men who attempted to intimidate her in order that she would not testify against James Ambrose, who is charged with robbing the Raverty home.

Alleged Overcoat Thief.

Harry Gardner, nineteen years of age and who formerly roomed at 22 Second street, was arrested yesterday by Detectives Dalk and Walker and is charged with stealing an overcoat and a suit of clothing from Fred Reitz, a former roommate. The theft occurred about three weeks ago and the clothing was recovered recently from Isaac's pawnshop. The man who stole the clothing was described and the description fitted Gardner. Reitz swore out a warrant on which Gardner was arrested.

BADLY AFFLICTED WITH ECZEMA.

For More Than Two Years—Tries Physicians, Patent Remedies, Old Women and Quack Cures and Found No Relief.

USES CUTICURA AND IS SOON SOUND AND WELL.

"I was very badly afflicted with eczema for more than two years. The parts affected were my limbs below the knees. I tried all the physicians in the town and some in the surrounding towns, and I also tried all the patent remedies that I heard of, besides all the cures advised by old women and quacks, and found no relief whatever. I consulted with the Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent. In the Cuticura Remedies I found immediate relief, and was soon sound and well. Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent, Ind., Nov. 15, '05."

DANDRUFF KILLS HAIR.

Cuticura Soap Kills Dandruff

"I was troubled with dandruff on my head ever since I was twelve years old. I had beautiful hair up to that time. The dandruff destroyed my hair, and everything I could hear of, I had no doctor, but I went into a drug store where I was well acquainted, and asked the druggist if he knew of anything that would be good for me. He said: 'Of course I do. Just get a cake of Cuticura Soap.' I got it, and it did my hair good the first time I used it. My sister-in-law couldn't keep the dandruff off the top of her baby's head, and the hair wouldn't grow. I was there, had a cake of Cuticura Soap with me. I told her about it, and gave her the Cuticura Soap, and in about three months I went there again, the child's head was covered with hair and not a sign of dandruff. My sister said it was the Cuticura Soap. The child is not past three years old and has a lovely head of hair. Mrs. E. W. Shiley, Columbus, Kan., Oct. 25, 1905."
